A. Sustainability
B. Reliability
C. Distinct
D. Consistency
E. Explanation:
Sustainability ensures that the control continues to function as expressed over the time and adopts as changes or new elements are introduced to the environment.
Answer: A
Explanation:
is incorrect. Consistent characteristic of the control tells whether the control can be applied in the same manner across the organization. Answer: A is incorrect. Reliability of control ensures that it will serve its purpose under multiple circumstances. Answer: D is incorrect. A control or countermeasure which does not overlap in its performance with another control or countermeasure is considered as distinct. Hence the separation of controls in the production environment rather than the separation in the design and implementation of the risk refers to distinct.

NEW QUESTION: 2
Refer to the exhibit.

On the basis of the partial configuration, which two statements are correct? (Choose two.)
A. Only routes matching 10.0.0.0/8 will be advertised out interfaces other than Ethernet 0.
B. Only routes matching 10.0.1.0/24 will be advertised out Ethernet 0.
C. Only routes matching 10.0.0.0/8 will be advertised out Ethernet 0.
D. Only routes 10.0.1.0/24 will be sent out all interfaces.

E. All routes will be advertised out interfaces other than Ethernet 0.
F. Only routes 10.0.1.0/24 will be allowed in the routing table.
Answer: A,B
Explanation:
Explanation In this case, the following algorithm is used when multiple distribute-lists are used:
1.First check which interface is being sent out. If it is Ethernet 0, distribute-list 2 is applied first. If the network is denied then no further checking is done for this network. But if distribute-list 2 permits that network then distribute-list 1 is also checked. If both distribute-lists allow that network then it will be sent out.
2.If the interface is not Ethernet 0 then only distribute-list 1 is applied.
Now let's take some examples. + If the advertised network is 10.0.1.0/24, it will be sent out all interfaces, including Ethernet 0.+ If the advertised network is 10.0.2.0/24, it will be sent out all interfaces, excepting Ethernet 0.+ If the advertised network is 11.0.0.0/8, it will be dropped.
Note: It is possible to define one interface-specific distribute-list per interface and one protocol-specific distribute-list for each process/autonomous-system.
