A network architect has planned an 802.1X solution for a company with these requirements:

The company wants to keep this solution as it is but also allow the same ports to support guest access. Instead of authenticating with 802.1X, guests should log in through a Web page hosted on UAM.

Which solution meets this requirement?

- A. The ProVision switches implement 802.1X and Web-Auth on the same ports. The switches have Web pages downloaded on to them and enforce Web-Auth locally.
- B. The ProVision switches do not implement authentication on their ports. The IRF virtual device implements 802.1X and Web-Auth on the links that connect to the ProVision switches.
- C. The ProVision switches have a guest VLAN on the ports than enforce 802.1X. The guest VLAN extends to the IRF virtual switch, which enforces Web-Auth to UAM on this VLAN.
- D. The ProVision switches implement hybrid ports for authentication. The switch port detects whether a connected device belongs to an employee or guest and implements either 802.1X or remote Web-Auth.

NEW QUESTION: 4

A user has created a VPC with CIDR 20.0.0.0/16 using the wizard. The user has created a public subnet CIDR (20.0.0.0/24) and VPN only subnets CIDR (20.0.1.0/24) along with the VPN gateway (vgw-12345) to connect to the user's data center. The user's data center has CIDR 172.28.0.0/12. The user has also setup a NAT instance (i-123456) to allow traffic to the internet from the VPN subnet. Which of the below mentioned options is not a valid entry for the main route table in this scenario?

- A. Destination: 20.0.0.0/16 and Target: local
- B. Destination: 0.0.0.0/0 and Target: i-12345
- C. Destination: 20.0.1.0/24 and Target: i-12345
- D. Destination: 172.28.0.0/12 and Target: vgw-12345

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

The user can create subnets as per the requirement within a VPC. If the user wants to connect VPC from his own data center, he can setup a public and VPN only subnet which uses hardware VPN access to connect with his data center. When the user has configured this setup with Wizard, it will create a virtual private gateway to route all traffic of the VPN subnet. If the user has setup a NAT instance to route all the Internet requests, then all requests to the internet should be routed to it. All requests to the organization's DC will be routed to the VPN gateway. Here are the valid entries for the main route table in this scenario:

Destination: 0.0.0.0/0 & Target: i-12345 (To route all internet traffic to the NAT Instance.

Destination: 172.28.0.0/12 & Target: vgw-12345 (To route all the organization's data center traffic to the VPN gateway).

Destination: 20.0.0.0/16 & Target: local (To allow local routing in VPC).
