When working with the CyberArk Disaster Recovery (DR) solution, which services should be running on the DR Vault?

- A. CyberArk Vault Disaster Recovery
- B. CyberArk Vault Disaster Recovery, PrivateArk Database, PrivateArk Server
- C. CyberArk Vault Disaster Recovery (DR), PrivateArk Database
- D. CyberArk Vault Disaster Recovery, PrivateArk Database, CyberArk Event Notification Engine

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 2

You have a database for a mission-critical web application. The database is stored on a SQL Server 2012 instance and is the only database on the instance. The application generates all T-SQL statements dynamically and does not use stored procedures.

You need to maximize the amount of memory available for data caching.

Which advanced server option should you modify?

- A. Scan for Startup Procs
- B. Enable Contained Databases
- C. Allow Triggers to Fire Others
- D. Optimize for Ad hoc Workloads

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

A contained database is a database that is isolated from other databases and from the instance of SQL Server that hosts the database. SQL Server helps user to isolate their database from the instance in 4 ways.

Much of the metadata that describes a database is maintained in the database. (In addition to, or instead of, maintaining metadata in the master database.) All metadata are defined using the same collation.

User authentication can be performed by the database, reducing the databases dependency on the logins of the instance of SQL Server.

The SQL Server environment (DMV's, XEvents, etc.) reports and can act upon containment information.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Which of the following BEST measures the operational effectiveness of risk management capabilities?

A. Key risk indicators (KRIs)

B. Explanation:

Key performance indicators (KPIs) provide insights into the operational effectiveness of the concept or capability that they monitor. Key Performance Indicators is a set of measures that a company or industry uses to measure and/or compare performance in terms of meeting their strategic and operational goals. KPIs vary with company to company, depending on their priorities or performance criteria. A company must establish its strategic and operational goals and then choose their KPIs which can best reflect those goals. For example, if a software company's goal is to have the fastest growth in its industry, its main performance indicator may be the measure of its annual revenue growth.

C. Capability maturity models (CMMs)

D. Key performance indicators (KPIs)

E. Metric thresholds

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

is incorrect. Key risk indicators (KRIs) only provide insights into potential risks that may exist or be realized within a concept or capability that they monitor. Key Risk Indicators are the prime monitoring indicators of the enterprise. KRIs are highly relevant and possess a high probability of predicting or indicating important risk. KRIs help in avoiding excessively large number of risk indicators to manage and report that a large enterprise may have. Answer: A is incorrect.

Capability maturity models (CMMs) assess the maturity of a concept or capability and do not provide insights into operational effectiveness. Answer: B is incorrect. Metric thresholds are decision or action points that are enacted when a KPI or KRI reports a specific value or set of values. It does not provide any insights into operational effectiveness.
