NEW QUESTION: 1

Which of the following statements pertaining to link encryption is false?

- A. Information stays encrypted from one end of its journey to the other.
- B. It provides protection against packet sniffers and eavesdroppers.
- C. It encrypts all the data along a specific communication path.
- D. User information, header, trailers, addresses and routing data that are part of the packets are encrypted.

Answer: A

Explanation:

When using link encryption, packets have to be decrypted at each hop and encrypted again. Information staying encrypted from one end of its journey to the other is a characteristic of end-to-end encryption, not link encryption. Link Encryption vs. End-to-End Encryption Link encryption encrypts the entire packet, including headers and trailers, and has to be decrypted at each hop.

End-to-end encryption does not encrypt the IP Protocol headers, and therefore does not need to be decrypted at each hop.
